The Rams know how to score. They've shown that with their 40-6 opening day victory over the Centennial Bulldogs. QB Michael Sabrina is solid under center. He's got 2 good skill position players in Carter Hogue and Daniel Jackson who both can score with their legs or their hands. The Raiders have been trying to find their identity so far. QB Ryan Perkins, RB's Rocco Drougas, Leland Mathias, and Barrago Miguel have all had good spurts so far and are not far off from putting things together. Raiders can still get in the playoff conversation if they can get on track this weekend.

Silverado Hawks (1-2) VS TMT Elite (2-1) – 14U

Where: Sierra Vista High School

When: 3:15 PM

TMT Elite thus far this season is scoring with several different weapons such as Tavita Seloti, Avante Clark, Daniel Cargill, and Isaiah Robinson. The Silverado Hawks on the other hand boasts one of the Top 3 Defenses in the league allowing just under 7 points a game. Silverado is as stingy as can be and can win games by winning the turnover battle. Robert Parker and Jared Moon have both had big interceptions for Silverado this season. Look for TMT Elite to continue to spread the ball around offensively on the ground. If they're forced to throw the Hawks could soar. Will it be TMT Elite's squad improving to 3-1 or will the Hawks use their tough defense and QB Brandon Tunnell's abilities to move to .500 on the season?

Henderson Cowboys (2-1) VS Falcons Hit Squad (3-0) – 14U

Where: Western High School

When: 3:15 PM

The Champ is here! Champion Edwards has had quite the first 3 weeks of the Fall Season. He's dominating with his arm. One of his favorite targets is Gunner Myro and those two have been having an offensive party all season. Unfortunately, for them the Hit Squad's looking to turn on the lights and make everyone go home. The 3-0 Falcon Hit Squad has dominated opponents 79-13 this season. They've lived up to the reputation we've heard about for a while now and brought their aggressive play to NYS. Jacob Ahmooksang continues to rack up yards and Touchdowns on the ground as the Falcons keep on trucking through the 14U Division. If teams key in too much on Ahmooksang then they hit you with QB Alexis Alvarez who can both sling the pigskin and hurt you with his legs. This game could be high-scoring as both offense average around 26 points per game.

Arbor View Jr. Aggies (0-3) VS Centennial Bulldogs (0-3) – 14U

Where: Rancho High School

When: 3:15 PM

The Arbor View Aggies have been competitive their first games of the season. They lost a close one to the Elite Las Vegas Wildcats and then gave a great effort in Week 2 against the Falcons Hit Squad. Last week, they ran into one of the best 14U Teams –not only in NYS, but—perhaps in the entire country in Vegas Strong Blue. Now it's time to get back to business. The Aggies have some playmakers who can get start for any team in the league. QB Michael Medcalf, RB Dylan Cooks, and Troy Tedesco are very good and on the Centennial Bulldogs' radar. The Bulldogs will look to air it out on Saturday with the lethal combo of QB Victor Plotnikov and WR Kohlman Smith. They've connected already to make some big plays and will look to put a number on the left side of their record this week when they travel to Ranch to hook up with the Aggies.
